Dublin Community Church—United Church of Christ

Sharing Our Gifts

By the time you read this it will officially be Fall. The trees will be turning colors, the air will be crisp, and the days will be getting shorter. As I write this, however, I have been reflecting back on my attempts at gardening over the summer, and something funny that happened at a family cookout.

Recently, as I sat with some family members on my patio, we all became aware of a very large ragweed plant that had decided to take up residence next to the patio. So, we decided that while we waited for some others to arrive, we would pull the overbearing weed. What happened next was nothing short of comical. The stem of the weed was so strong, and the roots so deep that it took three adults and a shovel, digging and pulling and twisting with all our might to unearth the intruding weed. That thing was determined to stay!

The flowers and plants that I “babied” all summer, however, have not been nearly as robust. The impatiens that I carefully planted and faithfully watered all summer have been completely eaten by the deer – I’m talking not a single bloom is left. And the three tomato plants I tended all summer only managed to produce one small tomato – no kidding.

Clearly, then, I don’t have the talent for gardening that others have. But I do have other gifts, and perhaps all of this is a bit of a metaphor for life. We don’t all have the same talents, and that’s not just Ok, it’s actually a good thing. We all have our own gifts to contribute.

In recent weeks our Stewardship Committee has asked the members and friends of Dublin Community Church to fill out a time and talents survey and to consider the many opportunities we have at DCC to give of our time and talents. In the coming weeks, the Stewardship Committee will also be asking us to consider the ways we can contribute financially.

Not all of us are good at gardening, but the good news is that we all have the ability to “plant beautiful seeds.” We may never know all the ways in which sharing our gifts have positively affected someone else. Our Stewardship theme for this year is, “Our Church is a good place to be...connecting, growing, serving, and giving.” Indeed, it is. And I give thanks for all of you and the many gifts you bring.

Shalom,

-Rev. Lisa Bowersock

A Good Place to Be...

"Our church is a good place to be...connecting, growing, serving and giving." This is the theme for this year's DCC stewardship campaign. I think it's a great theme because I have found it to be absolutely true!

...Connecting

Beginning with the Passing of the Peace, extending to coffee hour after worship, and continuing with many opportunities throughout the week, there are so many ways that the people of Dublin Community Church live out our call to be the beloved community of Christ. I have seen the depth of relationships that can be formed through our shared life together. Here at DCC, people pray for one another and support each other in through all of life's circumstances, living out our love for one another in Christ. Best of all, we recognize that there is always more room at the table, and everyone is welcome!

...Growing

Sunday School, VBS, Confirmation, youth groups, Sunday morning Seekers, Wednesday evening studies, Men's Fellowship, WORD... These are just some of the engaging ways our congregation encourages children, youth, and adults to learn and grow together in faith. DCC fosters an environment where individuals are encouraged to lean into their questions, share from their own experience, and expand their understanding. Each one is on a journey of faith, and we travel farther because we accompany each other along the way.

...Serving

At Dublin Community Church, there is room for everyone's talents and gifts! It is the creativity, energy, effort, and dedication of the people of DCC that make so many wonderful ministries possible. From Church Council to those who fill out all of our committees to a host of other volunteers, the people of DCC serve faithfully and joyfully, whether teaching Sunday school, preparing a meal for a church member after surgery, helping to formulate the church's annual budget, or sorting rummage. Every hour given in service is an expression of faith and love for God, for each other, and for our neighbors.

...Giving

I have seen how mindfully the leaders of Dublin Community Church manage the resources our faith community gives. As you are prayerfully considering your pledges for the coming year, know that every dollar is put toward ministry that grows the Body of Christ in meaningful ways. Thank you for all the ways you show forth the love of God through your faithfulness and generosity.

Because of you—who you are and how you live—our church truly is a good place to be... connecting, growing, serving and giving!

Peace and blessings always,

-Rev. Becky

2024 Stewardship Campaign

Thank you to our committee and ministry leaders who invited us to join them in serving our church: Brenda Rizzo from Finance, Kathy Blair from Rummage Sale, Sri Kar from Fellowship, and C.E. Director Jill Deicas-Nehls from Christian Education!

“Our church is a good place to be...connecting, growing, serving and giving.”

Consecration Sunday this year will be on November 3. Each Sunday in October, our Witnessing Stewards will encourage us to prayerfully make a financial pledge for 2025. They will share personal stories and thoughts about how our church is a good place to be. I'm eager to hear what each will say.

Will we hear stories about connecting with friends and loved ones? Or about growing in wisdom and faith? Or serving our neighbors both near and far? Or giving as a measure of our abundance and expression of our gratitude for who and whose we are together as friends and members of Christ's church? I'm eager to hear them, and I imagine that you have a story that would inspire and encourage us as well.

Our church is a good place for all of us to be living our faith with each other. I encourage you to reflect on those reasons, in the quiet of your thoughts or in lively conversations with your loved ones. I invite you to prayerfully consider making a financial pledge to support the people, ministries and property of our congregation. Please make your pledges online or on paper. Both forms will be available by mid-October.

Our church is a good place to be together – I have a story or two to share – do you?
Eric Williams, Stewardship Committee Chair

With Gratitude!

The Dublin Community Church Foundation (DCCF) Trustees appreciate the gifts of several people during the past few years. Their generosity has contributed to the growth of Foundation funds. Won't you please let us add your name to our next list? YOUR DCC Foundation manages donations that help promote our church's "missions." 2024 grants were made this year to purchase new handbell tables and foam pads/cover, to assist the Kitchen Committee with a large dishwasher repair bill, to purchase a "bounce house" for VBS, church picnic, and other children's activities, to buy Green Team supplies, and to contribute to the "Ann's Angels" fund. We want to increase grant numbers and amounts with each passing year. YOU can help make that happen!

Keep the DCC FOUNDATION in mind when estate planning, when meeting with your financial advisor about the use of RMDs or when celebrating family milestones. Contact any of the DCCF Trustees for more information.

It's Fall and Harvest of Hope Time

The Dublin Food Pantry is grateful for all the faith community's support over the years, including the yearly Harvest of Hope effort! Dublin Community Church is being asked specifically to provide 200 boxes of Jiffy Muffin Mix and 200 cans of Cranberry Sauce for the boxes that will be given to our clients during the month of November.

We will have shopping carts in the narthex beginning on Monday, Oct. 7th to collect these items and we will deliver them to the Pantry on Wednesday, Oct. 30th. Please purchase these items now or whenever convenient, but please wait until Oct. 7th to bring them in.

We so appreciate so many faith organizations' contributions and this will truly make a difference to our clients.

Thanks so much!

- Repurposed and recycled tons of unwanted (to the donors) merchandise
- Presented thousands of low and reasonably-priced items to the public
- Provided dozens of opportunities for church members' fellowship

Healthy Ageing

The Senior Citizen Programme is focused on helping participants get their documentation in order to access various Government services. The ongoing activities have continued through the quarter, here is a snapshot of numbers reached:

1. Total elderly – 4287
2. Total Home visit - 13956
3. Total Community Meetings - 86
4. Total attendees – 2591
5. Total OPD– 60
6. Total eye checkup camps – 16
Total elderly at the camp – 674
Total eye surgery – 332.
7. Total Social Security Sch - 2247

Dance therapy classes were on a break for the summer but the healthcare camps and follow up continued. Social Scheme camps continued to ensure that people had the documentation needed to access government social services available to the Ajjis and Ajobas.

This programme reaches out to local donors for donations in kind for the grocery that provides daily meals, for medication distributed during the general check-up and Doctor consultation, and for the assistive devices needed by Ajjis and Ajobas. We have a lot of partners that come through for various activities including meditation sessions, grocery distribution for individuals, legal aid services for abuse faced by the elderly and of course partners for health camps.

Income Generation Programme (IGP) - Asimit (Without boundary)

The Asimit project continues to grow with 18 new women signing up for the computer classes in the quarter. The number of tiffins/lunch boxes provided per quarter went from 4487 to 4721.

Through this quarter Asimit organised Financial Literacy Training for the staff as well as women from the community. These sessions helped women understand income, money and savings better.

Through the summer the women made their own curry masalas to cut costs of buying readymade masalas and it has affected the taste of the food too, making it much better. The women enrolled with Asimit are primarily women who haven't stepped out of the house before and to see them grow and thrive has been a pleasure.

Tech SMART Centre, Gokhale Nagar

The Tech SMART classes have trained 105 students in the first quarter. The placement percentage for last year has reached 70% which was the target placement percentage.

As an inclusive centre, we enrol students with hearing impairment, a facilitator who is fluent in sign language is available to assist the students. This year we have sponsorship for 60 students with hearing impairment and are excited to fulfil this new target.

Apart from Computers and language training, we ensure the students are prepared for the workplace through other soft skill development. Exposure visits, mock interviews, and celebrations are part of the course to ensure the students are as prepared as they can be for their first job.

Training young women to be part of the Auto Industry, conducted technical training at an Automotive Company where our role was to bring spoken English and basic computers and workplace readiness.
